Wesleyan Academy for Lifelong Learning

Happy March!

As we step into a new season of learning and renewal, we are grateful to share this journey with each of you. May this month bring fresh energy, new ideas, and continued connection within our WALL community.”

As I write this month’s message, I am reminded of the many wonderful moments I have shared with WALL members — and of the tremendous dedication of our curriculum team, whose hard work keeps our courses fresh, engaging, and inspiring semester after semester. Reaching the midpoint of my 2025–2026 term as WALL President has been a joy, especially as we prepare for WALL’s 15th year of learning and community. I want to extend my heartfelt thanks to Curriculum Chair Roselle Holcombe for her outstanding leadership, and to welcome our newest committee members — Suzy McCullough, Patricia Levy, and Sheryl Jones. We are grateful to have you with us.

March is almost here, and it’s bringing another superb lineup of courses — including WALL’s ever-popular Great Decisions, where members dive into global challenges and explore real-world solutions. This month also features Mysteries of the Night Sky at the Museum of Arts and Sciences, Just Stop Talking: What to Say to People in Emotional Distress, Tristan und Isolde and Theatre Macon’s production of Cloud Nine. Together, they promise a vibrant and enriching March for all WALL members.

As we look ahead to celebrating WALL’s 15th anniversary, it is hard to believe how far we have come. At this year’s annual meeting, we will not only honor this milestone — we’ll also select officers for the 2026–2027 year. Plans for our May 8 celebration at 1:00 p.m. are well underway, and we’ll be sharing more details with members soon. Stay tuned.
